

administration program in possessing the secondary school principals for the administrative competencies as perceived by participants in Irbid governorate. To achieve research objectives the researcher developed a questionnaire that included (55) items divided into six categories. The validity and the reliability of the instrument were determined, Test- Retest and Cronbakh Alpha were used for this purpose.

The sample of the study consisted of (183) principals, (171) questionnaires were collected of (93.44%). The results of this study showed a positive trend by principals toward the school administration program, and this program helped principals with an average level in possessing the administrative competencies.
